UX DESIGN, RESEARCH & VISUAL PROJECTS

UX Design

Featured UX Case Study: Designed a mobile app concept to help young adults discover local events and connect with friends, with a focus on creating a more intuitive, accessible, and engaging event discovery experience. Portfolio case study available at jackgiesregen.com.

- Conducted user interviews and surveys to identify pain points, develop personas and empathy maps, and translate research insights into user flows and design requirements.
- Created paper/digital wireframes and low/high-fidelity prototypes in Figma, and incorporated feedback across 3+ rounds of design iteration.
- Improved usability and accessibility by simplifying navigation, refining prototype interactions, and applying inclusive design considerations such as color contrast and touch target sizing.

Psychology Research & Reporting

- Conducted qualitative and academic research in psychology, including topics related to social media, relationships, and mental health literacy.
- Completed capstone project on mental health literacy of Indigenous youth, synthesizing findings into a stakeholder-ready report intended to inform positive change.

Graphic & Visual Design

- Designed logos, marketing materials, presentations, and digital visuals with attention to layout, hierarchy, readability, and audience needs.
- Created data-informed PowerPoint presentations using visual storytelling to communicate information clearly and effectively.
- Produced animated GIFs and short-form visual assets to support communication and engagement.
